LEADERSHIP

Disruption

2019 NCHA WINTER MEMBERSHIP MEETING

Leadership in an Era of Disruption

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

As NCHA begins a new century of service to our members and to North Carolina, we enter a time of disruption that will shape the healthcare delivery system in our state for years to come.

From evolving payment models for Medicare and Medicaid, to the possibility of expanded insurance coverage for North Carolina's vulnerable populations, to exciting technologies that allow us to expand healthcare services beyond hospital walls and into people's homes, North Carolina's hospitals and health systems are embracing new opportunities and responding to challenges with renewed focus and intention.

Our annual Winter Meeting is an opportunity to network with leaders in our own industry and to be inspired by other great leaders, like McCauley Keynote Lecturer, Vice Admiral Peter Neffenger, who will share lessons learned from his time as the US Coast Guard Deputy Incident Commander during the 2010 BP Oil spill and during his transformational tenure as head of the Transportation Security Administration.

Our focus on disruption will include a look at retail healthcare delivery, cybersecurity risks, and emerging trends in healthcare and business. We'll also introduce new NCHA awards to recognize partnership and innovation. I look forward to seeing you there.

Sincerely,
Steve Lawler
President, NCHA

His transformation of the organization earned the TSA widespread recognition as the turnaround agency of the year and led to his being named one of the 25 most influential business travel executives of 2016 by Business Travel News. Prior to this, he enjoyed a distinguished career in the U.S. Coast Guard where he served as the 29th Vice Commandant, in addition to earlier assignments that included Deputy Commandant for Operations and Deputy National Incident Commander for the 2010 Deepwater Horizon BP oil spill.
